OUTREACH

Since 2006 I have been involved in various academic outreach activities, including coordinated programs such as “Language adventures – communicating science”, funded by the Robert Bosch-Stiftung (€33.500, with Lena Heine), and linguistics@schools, Public Understanding of Sciences and Humanities- (PUSH) funded by the Stifterverband für die deutsche Wissenschaft (€29.000), as well as non-funded ad-hoc activities with local schools (Language Day, Fall Academy for gifted pupils). I have also been a regular presenter at the “Knowledge Forum”, an outreach event in which faculty members of Osnabrück University answer questions by the public in less than four minutes in a pop-science fashion, see <https://www.uni-osnabrueck.de/veranstaltungen/zentrale-veranstaltungen/osnabruecker-wissensforum/>).

My work and views have been discussed in more than a dozen news reports and interviews. Topics include language change and language decay, love letters now and then, Anglicisms in German, New media and e-learning at university and at schools, and elections in the US. Media outlets include Rheinische Post, CNN, WDR TV, WDR Radio, HR Radio, Spiegel Online, Associated Press, DPA, Zürcher Oberländer, DUZ, Osnabrücker Nachrichten, Neue Osnabrücker Zeitung, Radio Osnabrück, NDR TV, wmn.de, Radio RST and many more.

I also was a linguistics consultant for the National Geographic film production “Origins: The Journey of Humankind”
